GR 655: Sentier vers Saint-Jacques-de-Compostelle : Bruxelles-Paris-Tours; in French; FFRP topo guide ref 6551; 1st edition 2013;

This a GR, that from time to time makes big detours compared to other guides on the same trajets. Between Brussels and Tours the differences add up to hundreds of kilometers! Very often beautiful kilometers, the makers of the GR's rather make beautiful routes than short routes!

Brussels - Saint-Quentin - Compiègne - Paris - Chartres - Tours or Paris - Orléans - Tours

16. Via Thiérache; in French; 2nd edition 2008; Association Belge des Amis de Saint Jacques de Compostelle Olloy-sur-Viroin - Chimay - Guise - St.Quentin
17. The GR 12 runs from Amsterdam to Paris. The Dutch part is formed by the Floris V pad (LAW 1-3) Amsterdam - Bergen-op-Zoom, then follows a Flemish and a Wallon part that both are described in a guide. There is no guide to the French part, but part of it is described in the Topo Guide Les GR de Picardie. Only the Wallon part is drawn on the map, because it can be used as a connection between the routes 11 and 21 : GR12 Bruxelles - frontiere francaise SGR 4; In French; edition 2009
ISBN 978-2-930488-10-3
18. The GR 5 runs from the North sea to the French Riviera. Only the part from Maastricht to Geneva is drawn on the map. This can be used to connect routes 5 and 6 to routes 22, 34 and 35:
Mer du Nord - Méditerranée - Tronçon Wallonie et Grand-duché de Luxembourg; GR 5; in French; Henri Corne a.o.; Liège : Les Sentiers de Grande Randonnée; edition 2009; ISBN 978-2-930488-08-0;
Maastricht - Liege - Spa - Ouren - Diekirch

Trekking in the Vosges and Jura and other walks; In English; Along GR 5 and GR 53 from the French-Luxemburg boundary to lake Geneva; Cicerone Press; 1st edition 2006;
ISBN 978-1-85284-434-9

There is a variant GR 5F, from Schengen via Nancy along the Moselle to Ballon d'Alsace. It is less mountainous than the Vosges. Described in: Les GR de Lorraine; In French; Topo Guide FFRP ref 514; 1st edition 2009;
ISBN 978-2-7514-0330-9

Northern France

20. Chemin Estelle
St Quentin - Compiègne and Compiègne - Paris. Guides (In French) made by les Amis de St. Jacques á Compiègne, downloadable on www.casajac.org
There is a guide for St.Quentin - Compiègne, one for Compiègne - Paris, a document with an update for Compiègne - Paris and a gps-track

GR 655: A variant of this trajet is contained in: Sentier vers Saint-Jacques-de-Compostelle : Bruxelles-Paris-Tours; in French; see description at route 15
21. Sentier de Saint-Jacques GR TopoGuide FFRP; ref. 654; in French; 4th edition 2013; ISBN 978-2-7514-0625-6; Namur - Rocroi - Reims - Châlons - Auxerre - Vézelay.

A shorter route than the GR is described by a group in Reims. They use the GR, but shortcut big detours. After Reims they go via Troyes instead of via Châlons Via Campaniensis; Les Chemins de St Jacques de la Champagne á la Bourgogne; in French or in Dutch; Randonneurs & Pèlerins 52; 4e edition 2016; ISBN 978-2-9543565 (French) or 978-2-954-43565 (Dutch); a more simple version in German is also available. This is only a translation of the texts to be used together with the French version.

You can order them on www.randonneurs-pelerins.com
On this site you can also find information about a Chaîne d'hospitalité pèlerine, sleeping addresses for pilgrims by (former) pilgrims.
Rocroi - Reims - Sézanne - Troyes - Vézelay

Conrad Stein 2nd edition 2013; ISBN 978-3-86686-408-5;
Trier - Metz - Nancy - Auxerre - Vézelay.
23. Tournai - Reims

A group of pilgrims from Tournai (Pèlerins St. Jacques Tournai) made, together with Les Amis des chemins de Compostelle du Nord (Northern France) a guide from Tournai to Reims. This makes a connection between routes 10 and 15, and between 10 and 21

Livret Sur le chemin vers Santiago de Compostela Tournai-Reims; in French; Free downloadable on : www.st-jacques.be Tournai - Sebourg - Maroilles (on route 15) - Chateau Porcien (on route 21) - Reims

GR 122 also connects routes 10 and 15, and 10 and 21. There is no guide of this part of the GR 122. On www.gr-infos.com/gr122.htm you can find the trajet on Google Maps. Some homework needed. I don't know how well the red and white signposting is maintained.
Connection between route 10 and 15 (distance about 27 km, a bit more along the GR) or between route 10 and 21 (distance about 200 km, from the end of the GR 122 to Chateau Porcien on route 21 is a gap of about 4 km)

The new Via Scaldea made by the Vlaams Genootschap (in Dutch) contains both a branch of route 10 as route 23. See route 10.

24. Les chemins de Saint Jacques de Compostelle Reims - Paris; in French; Randonneurs et pelerins 51; New edition 2016, now complete with overnight accommodations, maps and route descriptions. You can order it on their website: www.randonneurs-pelerins.com
Globally the route follows the Marne and enters Paris along the Seine.
Reims - Epernay - Château-Thierry - La Ferté-sous-Jouarre - Meaux - Paris.

Globally this route follows the Seine and later the Yonne. Paris - Fontainebleau - Moret-sur-Loing - Sens - Villeneuve-sur-Yonne - Auxerre - Vézelay
26. Via Lille to Chartres and Paris
Menin, Lille - Arras et Amiens; in French; Compostelle Nord and

Compostelle Arras; in French. It consists of the following parts:

The short traject from Menin on route 10 to Lille (23 km) is described by Compostelle Nord from Lille.
Menin- Lille www.compostelle-nord.com

The next bit (again 23 km) Lille - Meurchin, is not yet described in a guide. This needn't be a problem. The Canal de la Deûle runs a bit west of Lille and then south to Meurchin and you can follow a large part of it. With a good map that should be easy!

The largest traject, Meurchin - Amiens (120 km) is described by Compostelle Arras.

There are 14 numbered pdf's each describing a short traject (map and description). The last one is a map of the whole route. There is also a pdf "Hebergements" with overnight accommodations.

Pointe de Grave - Soulac-sur-Mer - Biganos - Bayonne - Hendaye

31. There are 2 main signposted roads: the GR 654 and a pilgrims way, sustained and maintained by 5 pilgrims organisations along the route. They sometimes run together and sometimes they cross each other. The GR runs from Vézelay via La Charité and then to Nevers. In Périgueux it splits in a west branch and an east branch. The west branch is nearly equal to the pilgrims way maintained by the pilgrims organisations via La Réole to Saint-Jean-Pied-de-Port. The east branche goes to Montréal-du-Gers.
The pilgrims way has a variant from Vézelay via Nevers and another variant via la Charité and Bourges. After Périgueux it takes the way via La Réole.
The GR is longer and makes more (often beautiful) detours, it is clear that the makers of the GR don't like asphalt!

The Vezelay route, in English and Dutch; Dutch association of Saint James; Working group "The Vezelay route"; Adaptation of the directions by the regional Associations of Saint James. Edition 2016; ISBN 97890 8548 4288 (via Nevers) or 97890 8548 4134 (via Bourges)

Der Küstenweg; Michael Kasper & Michael Moll; Conrad Stein Outdoor 71; in German; ISBN 978-3-86686-104-4; 11th edition; 2013

Irun - Bilbao - Santander - Gijón - Ribadeo - Sobrado de los Monjes - Arzua (on Camino Francés) - Santiago

Le Chemin Côtier - Camino del Norte; Jean-Yves Grégoire, Françoise Pinquet; in French; ISBN 978-2-84182-428-1; 2nd edition 2010. After Oviedo Camino Primitivo: Bayonne - Irun - San Sebastian - Bilbao - Santander - Oviedo - A Fonsagrada - Lugo - Santiago - Finisterre.

44. Camino del Salvador (León - Oviedo) and Camino Primitivo (Oviedo - Lugo - Melide) together form a challenging and mountainous detour on the last part of the way to Santiago. Traditionally to worship in Oviedo El Salvador (the Saviour) in the cathedral of the same name before going to Santiago. Modern pilgrims (with mountain experience!) can do the detour to follow this tradition or to avoid (part of) the busy last part of the Camino Frances. The Camino Primitivo can also be used as an alternative for the last part of the Camino del Norte (route 43)

Camino de Santiago, Guía del camino de Invierno; in Spanish; José D. Rúa Perez; A Pena D' Agua Edicions; order on: guiacaminodeinvierno@gmail.com with maps Ponferrada - Santiago

There is a spanish website about this route: (camino de invierno) with maps, heigth profiles and elaborate descriptions od each etape; in Spanish; Ponferrada - Lalín(A Laxe)
See for Lalín(A Laxe) - Santiago: route 46

The camino de Invierno can be an alternative for the busy last part of the Camino Frances.
It's name (invierno = winter) comes from the fact that in winter the circumstances on the heigh pass at Cebrero can be rather bad in winter. Than this somewhat lower route can be an alternative.

Sevilla - Granja de Moreruela and Granja de Moreruela - Ourense - Santiago

Vía de la Plata; Jakobsweg von Sevilla nach Santiago de Compostela; in German Cordula Rabe; Bergverlag Rother; ISBN 978-3-7633-4333-1; 2nd edition 2011; Sevilla - Riego del Camino - Ourense - Sea - Santiago and Riego del Camino - Astorga - Santiago - Finisterre - Muxia

This of coarse is not a route from the Northern countries to Santiago.

I mention it here because you can use it to avoid the busy last part of the Camino Frances: Take from Astorga the Eastern branche against the intended direction to Granja de Moreruela and then take the Western branche to Santiago.

47. Camino Finisterre

A pilgrim's guide to the Camino Finisterre; bilingual English/Spanish; John Brierley; Findhorn press; A Practical & Mystical Manual for the Modern Day Pilgrim; ISBN 978-1-84409-590-2; edition 2013.
